Launched in September 2006
the annual competition continues to be well received by school and college students across North East England.

Designed to help students develop their software / ICT ideas – the competition continues to be a hit with businesses and students across the region.

To date over 200 teams have submitted applications, with students going on to do battle through four tough rounds, delivering presentations to a panel of the North East's top business brains to demonstrate their unique ideas for software / ICT solutions.
